Pope Francis: A Tribute

On the second day of the Easter Octave, Easter Monday, we woke up to the shocking news of the passing of our Holy Father, Pope Francis—servant of the servants of God. His death marks the close of a remarkable papacy.

As the first South American Pope, he touched hearts around the world through his humility, compassion, and courageous faith. He was born in Buenos Aires on December 17, 1936, the son of Italian immigrants. His father, Mario, was an accountant employed by the railways, and his mother, Regina Sivori, was a committed wife dedicated to raising their five children. Francis graduated as a chemical technician, and then chose the path of the priesthood, entering the Diocesan Seminary of Villa Devoto.

On March 11, 1958, he entered the novitiate of the Society of Jesus. He completed his studies of the humanities in Chile and returned to Argentina in 1963 to graduate with a degree in philosophy from the Colegio de San José in San Miguel.

On December 13, 1969, he was ordained a priest by Archbishop Ramón José Castellano. He continued his training between 1970 and 1971 at the University of Alcalá de Henares, Spain, and on April 22, 1973, made his final profession with the Jesuits.

Back in Argentina, he was novice master at Villa Barilari, San Miguel; professor at the Faculty of Theology of San Miguel; consultor to the Province of the Society of Jesus, and also Rector of the Colegio Máximo of the Faculty of Philosophy and Theology.

On July 31, 1973, he was appointed Provincial of the Jesuits in Argentina, an office he held for six years. He then resumed his work in the university sector, and from 1980 to 1986 served once again as Rector of the Colegio de San José, as well as parish priest, again in San Miguel.

In March 1986, he went to Germany to finish his doctoral thesis. On May 20, 1992, Pope John Paul II appointed him titular Bishop of Auca and Auxiliary of Buenos Aires. Upon the death of Cardinal Quarracino, he succeeded him on February 28, 1998, as Archbishop, Primate of Argentina and Ordinary for Easternrite faithful in Argentina. Three years later at the Consistory of February 21, 2001, John Paul II created him Cardinal, assigning him the title of San Roberto Bellarmino. He asked the faithful not to come to Rome to celebrate his creation as Cardinal but, rather, to donate to the poor what they would have spent on the journey. As Grand Chancellor of the Catholic University of Argentina, he is the author of the books: Meditaciones para Religiosos (1982), Reflexiones sobre la Vida Apostólica (1992), and Reflexiones de Esperanza (1992). In April 2005, he took part in the Conclave in which Pope Benedict XVI was elected.

As Archbishop of Buenos Aires—a diocese with more than three million inhabitants—he conceived of a missionary project based on communion and evangelization. He had four main goals: open and brotherly communities, an informed laity playing a lead role, evangelization efforts addressed to every inhabitant of the city, and assistance to the poor and the sick. He aimed to re-evangelize Buenos Aires, “. . . taking into account those who live there, its structure and its history.” He asked priests and lay people to work together.

Until the beginning sede vacante from the resignation of Pope Benedict XVI, he was a member of the Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments, the Congregation for the Clergy, the Congregation for Institutes of Consecrated Life and Societies of Apostolic Life, the Pontifical Council for the Family, and the Pontifical Commission for Latin America. He was elected Supreme Pontiff on March 13, 2013.

“My people are poor, and I am one of them,” he has said more than once, explaining his decision to live in an apartment and cook his own supper. He has always advised his priests to show mercy and apostolic courage, and to keep their doors open to everyone.

The worst thing that could happen to the Church, he has said on various occasions, “is what de Lubac called spiritual worldliness,” which means, “being self-centered.” And when he speaks of social justice, he calls people first of all to pick up the Catechism, to re-discover the Ten Commandments and the Beatitudes.

His project is simple: if you follow Christ, you understand that “trampling upon a person’s dignity is a serious sin.”

“I dream of a ‘missionary option’; that is, a missionary impulse capable of transforming everything, so that the Church’s customs, ways of doing things, times and schedules, language and structures can be suitably channeled for the evangelization of today’s world, rather than for her self-preservation” (Joy of the Gospel, 27). May his soul rest in peace.

—Fr. Jose Thomas Mudakodiyil

World Day of Prayer for Vocations

This Mother's Day Sunday, the Church throughout the world prays for vocations. Will you make a special effort to ask the Lord for more vocations to the priesthood and religious life?

- ♦ Pray for your pastor and other priests who have ministered to you this week.
- ♦ Pray for the clergy and young men preparing to attend this year's Quo Vadis Days Camp, June 23-26 at Lake Creek Youth Camp (SE of John Day).
- ♦ Encourage your sons, grandsons, and other young men to consider attending Quo Vadis Days Camp.
- ♦ Pray for more young men and women in our diocese to respond to God's call.

Pro-Life Corner

The 2025 Baby Bottle Drive to benefit the Bend Pregnancy Resource Center (PRC) begins this Mother's Day Weekend, May 10-11, and will run through Father's Day Weekend, June 14-15. Please pick up a baby bottle, as you exit Mass, and fill it with extra change and dollars to help mothers and families in need of diapers, formula, blankets, and other necessary items. You may also donate by check. There will be self-addressed envelopes available for this purpose. This is also a great opportunity for your children to get involved by donating their change.

Filled bottles may be returned on the weekend of June 14-15 as you enter Mass. Please do NOT return bottles to the Parish Office or anywhere inside the church. If you wish to return bottles sooner, please deliver to the PRC directly (address, phone number, and hours of operation are inside bottle).

For more information, please send an email to Paula Tierney at: pauladuray69@gmail.com.

St. Vincent de Paul Update

You can greatly help those in need by donating to the SVdP food pantry. Today, in honor of Mother's Day, we are requesting baking supplies. Thank you for your generosity.
